

Cowards Ron Lynch Chalice 5-26-93

The cowards in South Africa wear the uniforms of Police and the cowards down in Georgia hide behind white hoods and sheets
The cowards in the middle east think any old explosive will do and the cowards in Colorado tried to hide behind amendment 2

CLUCK CLUCK, ain't you got no cajones CLUCK CLUCK, ain't you got no test-i-clees
don't you know what's wrong from right do ya burn crosses in the middle of the night?

Are you afraid of someone different?
Are you afraid of someone new?
Are you afraid of a man's ideas when they don't sit well with you

The cowards on the north side carry guns, wear red and blue Afraid to look for jobs in the real world they'd rather steal from you So the cowards up in Congress are afraid of the NRA afraid to vote for gun control or they might get blown away

CLUCK CLUCK, ain't you got no cajones
CLUCK CLUCK, ain't you got no test-i-clees
don't you know what's wrong from right
do ya shoot kids in the middle of the night?

Seems to me, puttin' on gang colors shows the whole world two things about you you're too dumb or lazy to try to get a job and too chicken-shit to face the world on your own

CLUCK CLUCK, ain't you got no test-i-clees
