

Love Your Eyes
Ron Lynch Chalice (Oct 1994)

Her smile, will bring a man to his knees, her style can get her anything she'll please One look makes you want to take a chance
There's a book being written with every glance
She's so cool, she's so cruel
What to escape the stories and lies,
I can't get away 'cause I love your eyes.

That walk, can make any light look dim when she talks to another man, you gotta envy him but watch out, there's no truth in any thing she says you'll find out, she's a woman of a thousand ways
She's so cool, she's so cruel
What to escape the stories and lies,
I can't get away 'cause I love your eyes.

She'll turn her back then she'll walk on by She'll burn you, every night, a new alibi She's a teaser. she loves nobody but herself she's a pleaser, she'll bend you 'til you don't know yourself
She's so cool, she's so cruel
What to escape the stories and lies,
I can't get away 'cause I love your eyes.
